FIRE AND LIFE.

CAPITAL TWO MILLIONS STERLING.

This important company, in many respects the greatest of its kind in the present age, has appointed an agency in this city. The head-offices are in London and Liverpool with branches in Dublin, Edinburgh, Glasgow, Manchester, Bristol, Birmingham, Sheffield, Leeds, Newcastle, Southampton, Montreal, Toronto and other cities.

The ROYAL is remarkable; for the promptitude and liberality of its settlements: for the largest life bonuses (£2 per cent per annum) ever continuously declared during 15 years by any Co.; for the enormous extent of its transactions, showing £'09,000 in new life assurances for 1862, and a Fire revenue of £300,000 per annum; for its security, which has given rise to the proverb "as safe as the Royal;" for the accumulated funds in hand, over one million sterling; for its annual income, over half-a-million sterling; and for the correct calculation of its mortality tables. Hence the English pass of all countries, including over 80 leading papers, speaks in the highest terms of this company.

The report for 1862 shews that all the property of the Co. amounting to £816,070 is real and substantial property;" the amount now exceeds one million sterling. The increase, during 14 years, on Fire business was 900 per cent, and on Life 1350 per cent.

MESSRS. H. A. GREEN AND Co. are authorised to issue policies for Fire and Life to a very large amount, at moderate premiums, the Co. being anxious to extend its foreign business, which already shews an annual revenue of £200,000. Life claims can be settled without reference to England. For further particulars please apply to

Royal Insurance Company.

FIRE AND LIFE.

CAPITAL TWO MILLIONS STERLING.

This important company, in many respects the greatest of its kind in the present age, has appointed an agency in this city. The head-offices are in London and Liverpool with branches in Dublin, Edinburgh, Glasgow, Manchester, Bristol, Birmingham, Sheffield, Leeds, Newcastle, Southampton, Montreal, Toronto and other cities.

The ROYAL is remarkable; for the promptitude and liberality of its settlements: for the largest life bonuses (£2 per cent per annum) ever continuously declared during 15 years by any Co.; for the enormous extent of its transactions, showing £'03,000 in new life assurances for 1862, and a Fire revenue of £300,000 per annum; for its security, which has given rise to the proverb "as safe as the Royal;" for the accumulated funds in hand, over one million sterling; for its annual income, over half-a-million sterling; and for the correct calculation of its mortality tables. Hence the English press of all countries, including over 90 leading papers, speaks in the highest terms of this company.

The report for 1863 shews that all the property of the Co. amounting to £816,070 is real and substantial property: the amount now exceeds one million sterling. The increase, during 14 years, on Fire business was 900 per cent, and on Life 1350 per cent.

MESSRS. H. A. GREEN AND Co. are authorised to issue policies for Fire and Life to a very large amount, at moderate premiums, the Co. being anxious to extend its foreign business, which already shews an annual revenue of £200,000. Life claims can be settled without reference to England. For further particulars please apply to

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Mersey left Rio at 8 a.m., on 8th inst., arrived at 11 p.m., on 12th at Montevideo, and 14th, at 6 p.m., Buenos Ayres. She landed 10 passengers at Montevideo from Southampton and Lisbon, and from Rio 13 passengers; she also landed £30,000 and jewellery valued at five thousand francs. The Mersey brings for this port 32 passengers from Southampton, 7 from Rio, and 10 from Montevideo, and jewellery valued at 31,800 francs.

The Oneida arrived at Rio on the 1st inst. She called at Madeira, and landed 62 passengers on the outward voyage.

The Parana arrived at Southampton on 30th September.

The Magdalena arrived at St. Vincent on 21st October, homeward bound: her chief engineer, Mr. Buck, for some time on the River Plate route, on board the Prince, died between Bahia and Pernambuco. The Mersey passed the Liverpool steamer, Paraguay, at 8 p.m., 12th inst., homeward bound.

H.M.S. Alecto, now at Montevideo, is ordered to England to be paid off.

We are happy to inform our readers that Mr. Frank Parish, the British Consul in this city, has received by the packet letters from England, advising him that he will not be removed from Buenos Ayres.

Thanks to the go-a-headism of our Postmaster-General, Mr. Posadas, we received our European exchanges at at 10 o'clock a.m., a new office having been opened in the Post-office for newspapers, which are now sorted cotemporaneously with the letters. This is a decided improvement. If every man in the Government was as go-a-head in his department as Mr. Posadas, what a different country would not this be.

A letter from Admiral Murature's secretary, received yesterday, states that on the 11th inst., 7,000 Paraguayans crossed the frontier. We give this news for what it is worth, but cannot guarantee it.

Our colleagues have a tact for misrepresenting Oriental affairs, respecting the new loan made by the Montevidean Government. They try to persuade their readers that it failed, and that Minister Carreras was introducing the garotte to force the merchants to lend to the Government. This is positively incorrect. The Government issued mortgage bonds on the building of the Custom-house at 87, with an interest of 12 per cent. per annum, and paid out these bonds to the various Government creditors. We think the security as good as any in the River Plate.

The trial of Michael Murray for the murder of Thomas Murray in Zarate will take place this week.

The 'Mosquito' ridicules the 'Standard' for speaking well of Paraguay. As we perceive in our European exchanges received yesterday that the 'Times,' the 'Albion' and the 'London [illegible] Plate Mail,' speak in the [illegible] of President [illegible] one and dispersing the [illegible] man's throat.

[illegible] state that Mr. [illegible] found by one [illegible] Great South- [illegible] shews how much [illegible] ertise in the 'Stand- [illegible] our unintelligible col-

[illegible] amer Uruguay has brought [illegible] erpool materials for the Great [illegible] ern Railway, and 36 boxes of [illegible] for the Government of Paraguay. [illegible] Every vessel lately arrived has brought another heavy remittance, thirty thousand pounds sterling: this bank is now the largest holder of specie in the River Plate.

Private letters from England by this packet are not to say very encouraging, and some hint that all the English capital likely to be invested in the River Plate for some time has been already received by the Buenos Ayreans, and that they ought to make good use of it.

The Hon. Mr. Pakenham, Secretary of Legation, arrived yesterday in the packet. We welcome him to the River Plate, and salute him cordially. Notwithstanding all our drawbacks, we have at least an unequalled climate.

Sunday was a great day in the suburbs — the trains on the Northern Railway were crammed in the fashion of the old Barracas diligences. Belgrano, San Fernando and San Isidro were crowded. The Northern Railway must be making money.

The farmers are now flocking into town fast, and bullock carts laden with wool are on every road. The news which our friends bring us from the partidos is most gratifying — plenty of grass, sheep very fat and in good demand, and every one of our camp subscribers is richer this year than last. This is what we term going ahead in the true acceptation of the term, and we hope our Prime Minister will begin to agree with us about what we call going ahead.

We learn that in a few days some of the saladeros in the Uruguay will recommence working — the one in Fray Bentos will commence the last week in November. Urquiza is trying to sell his, and, on dit, some of our American friends are about buying him out.

A gentleman, we are told, has arrived in the packet who purposes starting a new English importing house. We wish him every success.

The Buenos Ayrean ladies will be pleased to learn that the packet has brought out a great assortment of diamonds and other precious stones. We have no doubt the importer will find a ready sale for them; it is, however, to our mind, the least desirable importation.

Mr. S. R. Phibbs, we are happy to inform his wide circle of friends here, arrived home safely. He wrote to us from Falmouth and is in the best of health and spirits. We regret to say that our new map of the River Plate Republics, which we ordered in London for our new Handbook, will cost so high (£75) as to preclude the possibility of obtaining it. Mr. Phibbs has kindly written to Paris for us to see if he could get it engraved there on more moderate terms.

Our special correspondent from Dublin has at last written to us. We will publish the letter to-morrow.

It was rumored through town yesterday that Mr. Thornton had received positive instructions respecting the Brazilian invasion. This we doubt, however, very much, as people have no time at home at present to think about such a contemptible affair as the Flores disturbance.

Mr. Lanus's article on the paper dollar will be found in another column. We wish we could get him to write for the 'Standard': he deals very severely with the brokers and economists of Buenos Ayres.

The Paraguay steamer will leave for Asuncion on Thursday morning; she takes up more railway iron and telegraph wires.

A Marseilles clipper has brought a contingent of fifty French soldiers for the Argentine service. It is a pity they are not ten times as many, for the defence of the frontiers, where the Indians, to use an expressive phrase, are "like the bull in the china-shop."

There is a rumor in town that 150 Government troops surprised a small [illegible] of rebels at Fray Bentos, and [illegible] one and dispersing the [illegible] man's throat.

LANUS ON THE PAPER DOLLAR.

The 'Nacion Argentina' published on Sunday another article from the pen of Mr. Lanus on the currency question.

Although we differ on many points with this practical wholesale merchant, we admit that his views respecting the Bank and the currency possess an honesty and an originality highly deserving of public attention.

We extract the following from the article referred to:

"The law already passed is sufficient to settle the paper money question and to make the paper dollar convertible at sight. Therefore, there is nothing now required but an arrangement between the Government and the Bank to carry the law into execution and obtain the desired results.

The first step necessary to take is the emission of four millions of bank shares, and thus take off the market one hundred millions of paper dollars which depreciate on account of the victories or defeats of Flores, which go up to-day because people say Paraguay is helping Montevideo; which go down to-morrow because Pinzon has seized the Chinchas; which depreciate still further because fifty speculators in cotton have failed in England, and which would depreciate still further to-morrow if the packet brought us the news that the Sultan of Turkey had declared himself Pontiff of the East.

These causes for the rise and fall in the value of paper money are amusing, yet nevertheless our soi disant economists attach to them the most alarming importance.

Do we not read the commercial reviews, the exchange reviews, and all the other reviews, both present and future? With what seriousness do they not say "the money market has undergone a change, gold has gone up or has gone down, because fifty houses have failed in England of second and third class standing, although these firms had not the slightest connection with the River Plate.

If J. M. Chevalier, Sr. Julian, or any other economist would mercifully take a look upon us in Buenos Ayres, we doubt not they would weep at our economists who with such seriousness treat of a money whose only intrinsic value is a slip of paper eight inches long by five wide, upon which is beautifully printed "The Province of Buenos Ayres recognises this bill for five thousand dollars current money."

What happy countries would not these economists imagine the republics of the Plata to be which have slips of paper worth twenty-five thousand francs each? But if the next day they read some of our money market review which said, "according to our predictions paper money is improving, the value of our wools this year amounts to 240 millions, and consequently the demand for paper money will diminish the value of specie, notwithstanding the efforts of speculators." Two days after this the steamer Payta arrives and our money market reviews announce with the greatest seriousness, that in consequence of the numerous failures in England, paper money is going down and gold is going up, without any effort on the part of speculators.

Here then is a grand field for the genius of Mr. Chevalier and St. Julian, but unfortunately Buenos Ayres is a small place and unworthy of the attention of European economists.

The present state of affairs is extremely dangerous: it is necessary to take immediate measures. Let us put aside hopes, dreams and illusions: the paper dollar will cease to be money when the people thoroughly understand that a slip of paper destitute of guarantee is wholly valueless. The bank is now about to receive 4,071,200 pesos in national bonds. Let it issue, therefore, four millions of bank shares with an interest of seven per cent., and offer to sell them for one hundred millions of paper dollars; then we will all believe in the proposed redemption of the paper dollar, and that our public men have their time better employed than in composing verses and odes to the majestic Uruguay.

Things are very serious at present and a storm is brewing: if the lightning strikes us before the conductor is erected then some of those who aspire to have their names handed down to posterity will be cursed by the country which has been victimized by the superficiality of our poetic financiers.

M. BUSCHENTAL'S QUINTA.

The most charming spot in the River Plate is the unchristened park of Sor. Don José Buschental, near Montevideo. Accustomed as we have been to regard Lezama's Quinta as the standard of quinta elegance in the River Plate, we confess that M. Buschental's suburban retreat astonished us. The grounds are very extensive, and are laid out with a taste and elegance which reflects the greatest credit on the wealthy proprietor. This celebrated quinta is situated about three miles from the city surrounded by the country residences of the leading foreign and native families of Montevideo. The present entrance into the grounds is most unpretending, and the visitor turns from the high-road down an attempted avenue with rows of newly planted Australian gum-trees on either side. This lane leads to what we were informed is Mr. B.'s model farm, and terminates with an antique gateway where people who go in coaches must get out and walk. Crossing a log bridge which spans the little river we at last entered the grounds. The walks are wide and free of weeds; they branch off in every possible direction, but following the main walk we arrived at another model farm-house, built on the old Knickerbocker style — here we were told Mr. B. has wild animals of every name and nature, but none were visible — from this spot up to the summit where the owner's cottage stands, flowerbeds and shrubberies, abounding with the most recherché exotics, meet the eye. Here some half-dozen Lezama quintas would fit. Then the gum trees (without any possums) stand out in bold relief, and afford a pleasant shade from the burning rays of an Oriental sun. At last the little cottage and big ombú break on the sight — the ombú is of such a monstrous size that it might have been planted by some vagrant Hidalgo in the seventeenth century, whose prophetic vision depicted in succeeding generations the forms of French Admirals and River Plate Congressmen sitting in the calm of the evening on the most insignificant of its roots discussing River Plate politics. The cottage was shut up and could not be seen — we peered through the venetian blinds and saw "The Old Arm-Chair:" what would we not have given for an Eliza Cook's talents to scribble a stanza to that old arm-chair. The corridors are boarded in and converted into antesalas — the dining-room seemed to be in the centre of the house, alongside of which we distinctly discerned a billiard table. Round and round the silent, shut-up, and apparently deserted house we strolled to see if it was possible to encounter any object which might give us a greater insight into the character of the proprietor, but nothing presented itself save some fossil bones constructed into a seat beneath the ombú. The view from this spot is very commanding and the ombú shade is delightful. Hard by the cottage is the majordomo's dwelling, destitute of architectural beauty, covered with creepers. Behind the cottage the grounds extend a considerable distance, then descending the hill, the avenue, redolent with the perfume from millions of roses, William's sweet and stockgillies, leads to a meandering brook where, dictu mirabile, there is a cascade. We supposed that it was an imitation of Niagara, for there were the rapids, there the waterfall, there the awful bridge, then the angry waters become placid, and on a rather diminutive lake we saw a magnificent swan. "By that lake whose gloomy shore" stands a very neat log house, which we suppose is intended for bathing purposes. The beauty of the grounds about here consists more in the antiquity of the trees than any thing else. Following the sinuosities of the Santa Lucia, with weeping willows above, below, around, we came at last on the confines of this enchanting spot. We left it with a sigh, with a pang, a regret — not proceeding from any envious desire to own such a park — but with a moral conviction that, as the hospitable proprietor was absent, none of Ind Coope's could be obtained nearer than Montevideo.

CUSTOM-HOUSE DECISIONS.

Some days ago a case of goods consigned to a German house was embargoed on the plea that it contained immoral pictures. We learn that Messrs. ——— having received no invoice requested the case should be opened, and it was found to contain a quantity of penknives with miniature transparencies of an indelicate nature. The Administrator of Customs, suddenly fired with a zeal for public morality, ordered Messrs——— to pay the usual duties with a fine for the value of the invoice, and the goods to be destroyed.

Messrs.——— being totally innocent of any intention against public morals, inasmuch as as they had neither ordered the goods nor been aware of their consignment, appealed to the Federal Court against so arbitrary a decree. The fiscal's report was very conclusive in favor of the appellant, maintaining that the Customs authorities had not a shadow of power, by any law or enactment, to levy such fines summarily or order the destruction of goods, since the Chief of Police alone could interfere in matters touching public morality.

The decree of Sor Bilbao la Vieja was reversed, the fine cancelled, the goods restored to the German house on payment of the usual duties, and a precedent thus laid down against the ukases of the Custom-house.

It is beside the question, and obviously unnecessary, to comment on the discreditable conduct of the house consigning such merchandize, but we are happy to know that Messrs.——— of this city have written a sharp reprimand about the matter, which was so near involving them in a heavy fine, and of which they were wholly unculpable.

One good at least has resulted, namely, the abolition of those extraordinary prerogatives to which the Administrator of Customs previously laid claim.

HURRAH FOR THE GOLD MINES!—SPECIAL AGENT TO SAN JUAN.

We are glad to announce that Sor. Mansilla, of the National Mail-coach Co., has despatched a confidential person to Castaño (San Juan) to examine and report as to the existence of new gold-fields in that locality. We may expect his report before the end of the month.

The 'Pueblo' states that numbers of railway-navvies have struck work and cleared out for the gold mines, private and undoubted letters having been received of the most splendid gains by those first on the spot. The number of navvies who have "bolted" is said to exceed 100.

UNITED STATES' SANATORY COMMISSION.

Galpones, Nov. 9.

To the Editors of the 'Standard.'

Gentlemen,

I apply to you with the object of learning the cause of the omission of the names of parties in this district who subscribed to the Sanitary Fund, as I look in vain for them in the closed list published in the 'Standard' of the 19th October ult. I append a list of the names of several friends who paid subscriptions which have not been acknowledged, and also the name of the collector. I would respectfully suggest that you will have the goodness to hint, in your next number, at the complaints you receive from people in the camp who subscribed to the above fund, at not finding their subscriptions acknowledged in the published list. This, I presume, will, or should have, the effect of drawing some explanation from the treasurer, whose duty it is to satisfy the subscribers that their gifts have found their way to the object for which they were intended. Knowing your uncompromising strictness in matters of this kind, I await the issue in the fullest confidence that you will oblige me and others, by being the means of clearing up this little business.

I remain, Gentlemen,
Yours very truly,
A SUBSCRIBER.

IRELAND.

A Limerick paper gives some interesting and gratifying details of a visit recently paid by the Right Hon. Judge Fitzgerald né "J. D." to "his people" at Ahalin Ballybrown. His lordship was accompanied by his brother-in-law, Lord Southwell. The 'Munster News' remarks that the right hon. judge observed great improvement in the houses and farms of his tenantry, and has liberally consented to allow for the improvements they make in their dwelling, or for the building of any out-offices they may require. Happy it is for a tenantry to have such a kind and liberal landlord, who is always ready to assist them in time of need; and if other landlords would take such a personal interest in their tenants, and avoid exacting high rents, all our people could live at home as well as the happy tenantry of the Right Hon. Judge Fitzgerald.

The reports of the harvest in the North continue to be of a satisfactory character. In fact as the 'Whig' of this morning remarks, the harvest is now very nearly over in the North. The splendid weather of the last fortnight has enabled the farmers to get nearly all their cereals and flax housed in first-rate condition. In some mountainous districts some oats and flax still remain in the fields; and in some extremely backward localities some oats even remain uncut; but these instances are very rare, and practically the harvest may be said to have ended. Every one seems well satisfied with the quality and quantity of all kinds of produce, for not for many years have there been such excellent crops, and upon the whole such favourable weather for harvesting. The same observations apply generally to the entire country. The harvest is more than an average one—it is an abundant one, and has suffered little or nothing in the process of saving. We still continue in the enjoyment of the finest weather. We have had no rain for several weeks past, and the sun is warm and genial. In fact it is a Michaelmas summer.

AMERICA.

The political news is important. Fremont and Cochrane have withdrawn from the Presidential contest. The Peace Democrats had agreed to support M'Clellan. There is, therefore, every probability of a fair fight—Lincoln against M'Clellan. Postmaster-General Blair had retired from the Cabinet at Mr. Lincoln's request.

Peace rumours were current. Among them was one set afloat by the 'Richmond Inquirer' to the effect that General Sherman had proposed an informal peace conference with the Governor of Georgia and Mr. Stephens. The effect of these rumours, combined with the military successes, had been to send down gold in New York.

The Government of Morocco has ordered the Tangiers Custom-house to pay the indemnity of 125,000f. (5,000*l.*) claimed by France for the assassination of a French subject.

WOOL MARKET.

Since our report of the public sales under date 16th inst., we have no improvement to notice in the wool market, the uncertainty hanging over the financial world, the present high rates of discount, the panic and depression in the cotton market, and the recent failure of the Leeds Banking Company, have all tended to increase the depression of the wool trade and the result has been to curtail all operations in the raw material to the actual and pressing requirements of manufacturers and spinners, and the small amount of business doing is consequently (with few exceptions) at rather lower rates; there is, however, a large consumption still going on, and any improvement in the money market would soon be followed by more activity and a firmer range of prices, as there is no undue pressure to realise on the part of importers.

Salted River Plate ox aad cow hides.—The sales cover 11,135 salted hides, with prices slightly in favor of buyers. For Uruguay 52 lbs. ox hides, 5¾d. per lb. has been taken. Tanners in general seem more than ever determined to refrain from buying at rates which render their business totally unremunerative. Imports, 20,154 hides. Stock, 33,630 hides.

Dry River Plate and Rio Grande ox and cow hides.—Imports, 1,039 River Plate hides direct, and 271 Rio Grande via Continent. Sales, 636 River Plate, and 242 Rio Grande, at irregular prices. Stock, 643 River Plate, and 270 Rio Grande hides.

Market hides have continued to droop in price throughout the month, and may now be bought 2s. to 4s. per hide under Augnst prices. The quality has improved to some extent, but not so much as is usual at this season.

GO-AHEAD—PROGRESS OF AUSTRALIA.

This continent in the Southern ocean was, a few years ago, the abode of convicts, and famous only for intoxication and misery. It is now the richest colony of Great Britain. The pasture-lands of Victoria, N. S. Wales, and South Australia count 3,000 sheep-farms, with 15 millions of fine sheep.

Seventy-one years ago the first white settlers, a gang of London pick-pockets, landed at Sydney, a city which now boasts 80,000 inhabitants and is the centre of several flourishing colonies.

Twenty-five years ago the province of Victoria was a desert wild, peopled by vagrant Indians: to-day the capital, Melbourne, has 100,000 inhabitants, with its railways, telegraphs, steamboats, newspapers, colleges, theatres, and all the modern advancements of Europe.—Reforma Pacifica.

THE LONDON, BUENOS AYRES, AND RIVER PLATE BANK.

Consequent on the death of the lamented Mr. Bruce, late chairman of this prosperous and well-managed concern, Mr. John Hackblock has been elected chairman, and Mr. George A. H. Holt deputy-chairman, of the Company. Both these gentlemen are favorably known to the public, Mr. Hackblock as a director of the City Bank and chairman of the London Financial Association, one of the most successful of these recently-formed institutions. Mr. Holt is also a director of the Brazilian and Portuguese Bank, and of the Buenos Ayres Great Southern Railway, his long experience in those countries admirably qualifying him for such important functions. We believe we are justified in saying that the results of the working of the B. Ayres Bank will present results second to no foreign banking establishment in the metropolis, and that it has been eminently useful in developing the legitimate commerce of Buenos Ayres. —Brazil and River Plate Mail.

1,400 National bonds at 45, with all coupons.

Patacons were very firm to-day, and have a decided upward tendency, notwithstanding that the Bank burnt nine millions of currency to-day.

In the Plazas there was nothing at all done—in the South Plaza there were no buyers at all, and in the North Plaza very few carts were opened. We heard of a splendid lot of wool from Arrecifes which, last week, would have easily brought 105 or 110 per arrobe, was offered on sale to-day at 90, and no buyer could be found. The wool market is at present so weak that we think it right to advise our friends in the camp to be in no hurry in sending it in to town.

We were assured on the Bolsa that several thousand pounds sterling, in Exchange on England, was passed today at 49 pence. We endeavored to find out the names of the parties, but could not. Possibly, the rumor is incorrect, as also the statement that the Provincial Bank will ship gold by next packet to cover its drafts on Finlay, Kirkman and Co., London. We, however, feel bound to say that these things are talked of on 'Change, with what truth we know not.

Mr. Lanuz's remarks were the subject of comment, and his proposed plan of making new paper in the shape of bank shares redeem old paper dollars greatly condemned. It is said we know not with what truth that since public attention has been centred in the currency question, some parties have discovered that the amount of paper money in circulation infinitely exceeds the sum estimated. This we suppose must arise from the enormous amount of forged money in circulation, but no positive certainty respecting this can be arrived at until all the paper dollars are called in.

The state of affairs on the Bolsa is extremely critical, and people who require money begin to find great difficulty in obtaining it. It is feared that if money matters do not improve in Europe, dry hides, tallow, and wool will suffer a further decline, which must inevitably cause failures here among the weaker class of barraqueros and shippers. The great demand for paper money for wool purposes, is said to be purely imaginary, inasmuch as little wool has yet arrived, and the market is so drooping, a good deal is finding its way into deposit. It may be that the gloomy anticipations of some will not be realized, but there is a palpable feeling of distrust amongst moneyed men, which we cannot think will be removed until after the arrival of the English packet in December, when if the Rio failures have caused no panic in Europe, we have every reason to suppose things will resume their normal state.

The National bonds are weak, owing to the remote possibility of certain holders being obliged to throw enormous amounts on the market. Furthermore, people say the Government is issuing very fast, and that next year a new loan will be attempted, the bonds to be payable in London, which of course would make the present issue a sort of deferred or second class security.

Rams—Rams—Rams.

The undersigned, in calling attention to his large and superior stock of Rams and Breeding Sheep, begs to inform his Friends in the Camp that he has on hands a splendid collection of animals, from Three Hundred to Five Thousand Dollars, more, and is confident that each in its class will compete with anything in the province.

In the "Rambouillet type" will be found some fine specimens of the pure blood, besides crossings from the "Merino," possessing the size, shape, and length of staple for which this class is so much admired.

In the "Negrettes" he has also some beautiful animals of pure blood, as likewise the "Negrette" drawn from the "fine Merino," a "Cria" remarkable for compact shape and close heavy wool.

In addition to the above he wishes to draw especial attention to his celebrated Argentine breed, between the "Rambouillet" and "Negretto Ecre," and which, after seven years' experience, he can fully recommend as combining size and shape with length and weight of wool—qualities so anxiously looked for by all experienced sheep-farmers, and which have given so much satisfaction to those who have already purchased of this class. In buying the above in half, three-quarter, and pure blood, already acclimatized, there is an immense advantage, as Rams reared in this country are not so delicate and withstand the winter better than imported animals, besides being sold much cheaper, and only requiring ordinary care.

He can likewise supply the above classes in Ewes, either picked or by the hundred, and wishes to remark that all have been in prime condition throughout the past summer.

SAVINGS BANK.

BANK MAUA AND CO.

No. 103 Calle de Cangallo,

BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks, artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. of this city, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, now offer the same facilities in this city, and will open a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo, from Nine a.m till Three p.m on Week Days, and on Sundays and Holidays from Ten a.m. to Twelve m., for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.

Buenos Ayres, September 19, 1863.

P.p. Mauá and Co.

WILLIAM LESLIE

CONDITIONS.

Second—The interest allowed is six per cent. (6 p 0/0) per annum, which is liquidated ever six months.

Third—The depositors can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

Fourth—Once the money deposited exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars curreney, or one thousand dollars silver, the depositor, if he wishes, can open an account current, according to the rules established by the Bank.

Fifth—In case the depositor loses his pass book, it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

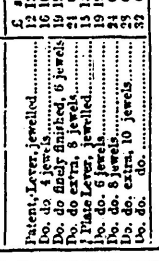
BENSON'S WATCHES AND CLOCKS.

Watch and Clock Maker, by Special Appointment, to His Royal Highness The Prince of Wales.

Opinions of the London Press upon Benson's Great Clock and Watches in the Exhibition, 1862.



"As a sample of English clock work on a large scale, the works of this are probably the finest finished that have ever been seen in this country. No Chronometer could be fitted with more perfectness or carefully adjusted mechanism."—Times, June 11 1862.

"A triumph of ingenuity."—Telegraph March 11 1862.

"A more splendid and exquisitely finished piece of mechanism we have never seen." Standard, June 17 1862.

"Some of them are of great beauty and if the English watch-trade only follow up with the same spirit and success this first attempt to compete with foreigners in decorative watches, there seems to be no reason why we should not get the trade entirely into our own hands."—Times, June 23, 1862.

"Ranged around the base of the clock were the Watches which Mr. Benson exhibited, and which have been universally admired for the beauty and elegance of the designs engraved upon them. The movements are of the finest quality which the art of horology is at present capable of producing. The clock and watches were objects of great attraction, and well repaid the trouble of an inspection."—Illustrated London News, November 8, 1862.
